

Hygrometers

Guidance for customers

A hygrometer is a helpful device used to measure the humidity or amount of water vapour in the air of your home. Having a hygrometer can help you understand if your property is prone to condensation, damp and black mould.

Some benefits of the device include:

- Temperature monitoring
- User-friendly dual display
- Colour-coded gauges

Monitoring the scale of the device can give you an indication whether you need to take any steps, such as ventilating your property by opening a window or using extractor fans, to reduce the risks of damp and condensation.
